

Home Exchanging

How to Save a Bundle While You Travel the World

With ED KUSHINS

The concept is simple: You temporarily trade your home in California for a home in the dream location you choose. It could be on the French Riviera, a small island in the Pacific or in a rural village in Ireland... the choices are limitless!

This fun and informative course will show you how simple it is to use your home as a free ticket to accommodations around the world. Ed Kushins will answer all your questions about home exchanging: • Finding, evaluating and selecting home exchange agencies • How can you be sure "strangers" won't damage your house • Costs involved • Questions to ask before you trade • Can you exchange an apartment • What to pack and what to leave home

- Who pays bills during an exchange
- Handling language barriers.

With home exchange you can experience an area like a local, not a tourist, in the comfort of a lovely home, not a cramped hotel room and best of all for free!

Ed Kushins has been home exchanging since 1992. His successful trades include those in England, Ireland and France and many within the U.S. including weekend exchanges to Palm Springs, San Francisco and Beverly Hills. He is the president of HomeExchange.com.
